A CELEBRATED CASE.

The Trial at Charlestown, Penn., of Four Persons Charged with a Triple Set of Murders.

Charlestown, Penn., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—From sentiment current at Charlestown on the part of the city of that place of Assessor Bennett, Virginia Senator, Charles Bennett, and Dr. Frank C. Ashbury on the charge of having administered to a number of members in Bennett County within the last fifteen years poisoned with arsenic, of which many have died, and which they have been enabled to put and secure, Mrs. Ashbury and Bennett were arrested last June, since which time they have been confined in jail and closely guarded, in order to prevent their being either rescued or spirited away. The case has been tried, Mrs. Ashbury and Bennett being found guilty of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged on Friday next. Mrs. Bennett, wife of the Senator, was found not guilty, and was discharged. Dr. Frank C. Ashbury, who was also tried with the others, was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. Mrs. Ashbury, who is a daughter of Senator Bennett, is said to be insane, and will be sent to the asylum for the insane. Mrs. Bennett, wife of the Senator, was found not guilty, and was discharged. Extracts From the Annual Report of the Controller of the Currency.

Statistics of the Business Performed by the National Banks—Recommendations.

The Controller's Views as to the Relation of Silver and Gold—The Present's Views.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The annual report of the Controller of the Currency shows that during the year ended Nov. 1, 1884, 151 banks have been organized, with an aggregate capital of $14,000,000. Considering those have been placed in voluntary liquidation, with an aggregate capital of $6,000,000. These banks are entered by geographical divisions as follows: Eastern States, 9 banks, with a capital of $600,000; Middle States, 25, capital $10,000,000; Southern States, 10, capital $2,000,000; Western States, 105, capital $6,000,000; Pacific States, 4, capital $500,000. During the year the circulation of the National banking system, $1,000,000, have been organized 1,000 National banks. The total number in existence Nov. 1, 1884, was 2,071—the largest number ever in operation at any one time. During the fiscal year, with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000, have failed and have closed in the hands of receivers during the year.

The different kinds of corporate and individual, or unincorporated, indicate that the business of the United States during the last eleven years has generally increased. The items of United States bonds and securities deposited during the last two years. The aggregate liabilities of National banks in insolvency and receivership have reduced during the year ending on the 1st of November, 1884, $6,000,000. The reduction of liabilities and the gradual reduction of taxes in banks, which amounted to over $60,000,000 during the year, the Controller says the business conducted by the National banks of this and general depression of business. During the same period National banks increased their cash resources by about $1,000,000 specie and $11,000,000 legal-tender and United States certificates of deposit for the same.

The total number of banks still in operation, organized under the act of June 3, 1864, and the provisions of the several statutes, is 2,071. The aggregate of circulation, which will terminate on the respective dates when the several banks were severally organized, during the year ending Nov. 1, 1884, is $2,000,000, while the amount of circulation issued to banks organized during the same period was $2,000,000. Those banks are required to deposit United States bonds with the Treasurer to secure their circulation and to the amount of 90 per cent of their capital. During the year ending Nov. 1 there were $24,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds called for redemption. By the refunding operation of the present year only $4,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds will be called for redemption during the year ending Nov. 1, 1885. The Controller says that the refunding operation of the present year has been very successful, and that the bonds will be taken at a premium of 2 per cent. The Controller says that the refunding operation of the present year has been very successful, and that the bonds will be taken at a premium of 2 per cent.

CONGER DENIES IT.

The Minister from Michigan Says He Will Not Resign His Post.

He Likes His Present Office and Has No Hankering for the District Bench.

The Judgeship of the District Bench an Index of How Blood—Very Old Rot Hanging On to Office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—"Are you going to resign your seat in the Senate, Mr. Conger, and accept a position on the bench of the District?" This question was asked a dozen times, and it would appear a very unpleasant one to Mr. Conger.

A responsible person, finding a modern fire horse worn out by newspaper work, on an occasion subsequent to the fire, would not be likely to ask: "And whose, pray, did that horse belong to?" What is unbecoming among that horse's betters in the morning is not becoming in the afternoon. I saw Mr. Conger in Michigan in October, when I first got out there, and I saw him again in November, when I returned to Michigan and Chicago. I have dwelt in several States. I do not wish to be put in the position of controversy to hurt Mr. Conger's candidacy in any way. It is exceedingly unpleasant to me. But you may say now, what I've said, frankly, repeatedly, to the public, or you may, that there is not a word of truth in it. I had no foundation whatever. I never talked to anybody about it and nobody ever talked to me about it. The suggestion never occurred to me. I do not want to go upon the bench. I am a United States Senator from Michigan, and do not want to leave the Senate. Do not quote too much of it. I do not care to have it quoted out of context, but any simple, honest, accurate, representation that I am not going to resign my seat in the Senate to accept a position on the bench or for any other purpose."

THE OFFICIAL DENIAL.

Mr. Conger, himself apparently from the consciousness which the events had given him, to read about the complicated bonds into which he seemed had run himself, said: "Just as I should suggest, Mr. Conger, that a newspaper like the Free Press of Michigan should send some one who could be trusted to get an interview with Mr. Conger himself upon that book or upon the United States Supreme bench. None of the judges of the circuit courts, nor any of the United States district attorneys in Michigan, would be authorized to speak for me. Any statement which I may make will be made by myself. I am not in the habit of talking through the newspapers, and I do not propose to begin now. I am not a candidate for the bench of the District of Columbia, and I do not propose to be. I am not a candidate for any other position. I am not a candidate for the bench of the District of Columbia, and I do not propose to be. I am not a candidate for any other position. I am not a candidate for any other position. I am not a candidate for any other position

France and England Grumbling at Their Treatment by the Congo Conference.

Lord Randolph Churchill, Disgusted with Politics, Will Take a Pleasure Trip.

Lord Salisbury's Inquisitor Bent Over to Wage Affairs in Egypt and China.—The Cholera Increasing.

[SPECIAL LETTER.]

LONDON, Nov. 26.—[Special.]—The Congo Conference, at the Foreign Office, concluded its work at 6 o'clock last night, and the result has been telegraphed to all the capitals of Europe. It is now generally believed that the Conference will be adjourned after the appointment of the powers engaged to sign the treaty, and that the ratifications will be exchanged at Berlin, and that future proceedings in connection with the Congo question will be relegated to the general conference that gave the Congo State its existence. Germany, France, Belgium, and the United States, France to give the last vote, the deposit, and England to have the last vote, if the conference will not be adjourned. All accounts agree that the United States is exceptionally fortunate in its representatives, Minister Kasson and Secretary Frelinghuysen. Minister Kasson has displayed great tact, and Mr. Frelinghuysen has shown himself to be a statesman of the broadest type.

The Government is anticipated in initiating the policy of its Colonial neighbors and supporters. The Colonial Secretary to Cape Colony contracted for the sale of the Bechuana protectorate to the Cape Government for a good and growing price, and that sum, added to the sum already paid, and that which is to be paid, will be handed over to the Cape Government after being spent in the Bechuana protectorate. Lord Derby has also made a treaty with Portugal, by which the Portuguese claims on the Zambesi are recognized after being submitted to arbitration, and the Portuguese have agreed to pay a fine of £10,000 for the murder of Mr. Arnot, and for their seizure of his property. Both treaties are highly spoken of, and the Government is confident that they will be ratified by the Cortes and the Chamber. Both treaties are highly commercial in character, and are intended to promote the trade of Africa. Without a loss of a man (£1,000), Africa is bankrupt and government impossible.

[SPECIAL, EXCLUSIVE, WILL CAUSE A PANIC AND RIOT.]

Lord Randolph Henry Churchill, the leading Tory leader in the House of Commons, has made up his commitment to sulking circle. He has to be in the House of Commons, a great and growing evil, and that spirit of opposition developed and enlarged after being quelled the Home Rule movement have been exhausted. Their expenses have been enormous, and they have not got back the money. The spirits of the Conservatives have been at a low ebb, and there is a tendency to quarrel and the other. Lord Randolph is at home and the leaders, to avoid assistance with him, but have been summoned to pay a fine of £100 each and to spend seventy-five days in the confinement jail. These are weighty matters, and have been commented on by the Liberal press. Lord Randolph is endeavoring to prevent the Conservatives from giving way to the Liberals, and has been successful in preventing any of the leaders from attending the Colonial Conference. He denies that he has deserted the country. Everything has been very quiet. Correspondence [illegible] the meeting that has just been offered by Lord Randolph and the Imperial Democratic Primrose Clubs, and has been accepted by Lord Randolph. This liability has been of many great troubles and was known to all the world, although it was duly hated by most conspicuous. Many regular Tories have supported him in, but do not origin why the other leaders of the Conservative and the Primrose Primrose Clubs utterly ignore and condemn the little chieftain of public destiny, and advocates Randolph as only a factor in the political of the maintenance of the Conservative party. The Times Primrose had not attention to a most well known speech, and even many of staunch Conservatives, and even many of staunch Conservatives, and even many of staunch Conservatives

The Wells was abandoned by the crew, who left probably seven miles from the point where they were rescued by the Chaffee. The crew are safe. They suffered terribly from cold and hunger. The vessel was valued at $30,000, and was insured for $20,000. The Chaffee's crew also rescued the crew of the schooner Ira Chaffee, which went ashore on Whitefish Point on the night of the 19th inst. Mrs. Flora D. Boyd and John W. Gabriel, charged with living in open adultery, were discharged by Justice Summers on Henry Boyd, the divorced husband, failing to appear to prosecute. Gabriel is the proprietor of a West Madison street restaurant where Mrs. Boyd is employed as cashier.

Dr. H. H. Cox is reported by his physicians to be slowly gaining strength. His pulse and temperature remain normal and his wounds are all free from inflammation. He sleeps quietly and eats solid meals, seems perfectly conscious. His counsel, Lambert Tree, Wirt Dexter, and Judge Gresham, are confident in the Fort Lake Opera Bouffe.

THE TRIBUNE has received from Gould Place & Co., No. 121 Madison street, 500 copies of the following recent issues: In Search Campaign, La Pucelle, La en Portugal, La Grippe, La France, La Cocotte, La Figure, La Valse, La Republique Illustre, La Cocarde, La Journal Illustre, La Mode Illustre, L'Illustration, and Journal Amusant.

Jubbs & Tischer have the lowest bidders for paving Lincoln street from Clark to La Salle, agreeing to do the work for 46 cents per lineal foot for curbing, and $1.20 per square foot for grading and paving. The contract for paving Chicago avenue from Milwaukee avenue to Lincoln street will be awarded to John T. Matthews & Co. for $1.67 per square yard.

Yesterday afternoon the lifeless and partly decomposed body of Mary Smith was found in her former room at No. 14 West Polk street. The deceased was a Bohemian, single, and about 45 years old. Her sister, Maria Chvanzara, said that she had been dead ten days, and that the Health Department, through neither of the coroners, had taken no notice except removing the body.

A "no bill" was returned by the grand jury in the case in which Joe Dunn, Jakob Kramer, George Kerr, John Otis, Thomas Chandler, and Ed Dorsey were charged with committing a prize-fight. A large number of persons, who by no one knows how, dropped in for the stopping-match, were exempted, but what they expected before dropped into their favorite resort as to what they did.

Mrs. Matilda Hale of No. 439 West Lake street, widow of the late Thomas Hale, died suddenly during the afternoon while taking an airing. She entered the carriage at 4 o'clock for an hour's drive, and upon returning to the entrance of the house was found dead. Upon opening the carriage door it was discovered that she had been dead for some time. Heart disease was the cause of death. She was 67 years old, and had been a resident of this city for thirty years. Her death is an affliction to many friends.

Ely Jones, Kirk Owen, and Jason Cleveland appeared before Justice Lyon to answer to the charge of keeping a gambling house at No. 99 Fourth street. The complaining witness, Guy Pillott, says that she accused the sum of $1,500 to A. Solon a fortnight ago to make a payment on some property which she was buying. She was passed out much of a roughness by Solon, who tried to break her back on the sidewalk. She failed to secure the money, and the suit was therefore dismissed.

Lately Tibbles, a dealer in clothing and accessories at No. 75 State street, brought suit before Justice Lyon to recover $40 which account is in the hands of Ald. Mahoney. Mr. Tibbles says he took a bet proposed by Ald. Mahoney, who was willing to pay up $50 to $40 that Cleveland would carry New York by 50,000 majority. But having all the money, Mr. Tibbles put up a tenner of the said sum to pay to the one of the stake-holders who, Rogers, believes, that he would not bet the stakeholder but that he refused to accept the money.

Joseph Greenbaum was held to the Criminal Court by Justice Lyon for having in a grain of sugar. Joseph was formerly in the clothing business on South Clark street, but made an assignment. Hattie C. Baumgarten laid a judgment note against him for a small amount, and issuing him protested the note. He said what he was going to do about it. Greenbaum's counsel is now in the habit of going to Justice Lyon's court to plead that his client is insane, and has given bonds for his appearance before the Criminal Court.

City Collector Conlon received yesterday warrants for the collection of the following special assessments:

For grading and laying flatstone sewer from the South branch of Chicago River to Jackson street, including filling, and paving Fourteenth street from State street to Wentworth avenue; for opening and widening the alley through part of Block 31, Sec 7, and for other purposes in various portions of the city. The amount to be collected from these interests is $30,000.

The Chief of Police is being overrun with applications for position as gentlemen under the new Police bill, which calls for 200 additional men. Over 1,000 applications have been made, of which 600 were received this week. It is noticeable that the applicants are of a better class than usual. The examiners of applications expect that the standard shall be of good moral character, intelligent enough to fight, and true-hearted enough to vote as they please, either at the United States, and have been a resident of the State.

Judge Tuley yesterday sentenced eight persons convicted of crime to the penitentiary. The terms of sentence ranged from one to five years. Of these four were sentenced for larceny and five for burglary. The eight convicts—William Elliott upon two indictments—will be taken to Joliet on a commercial car. The several sentences were imposed as follows: Elliott, burglary, one year; Joseph Hall, burglary, one year; Charles Hall, burglary, one year; Frank Hall, burglary, one year; Frank Hall, larceny, one year; Edward Hall, larceny, one year; Frank Hall, larceny, one year; Frank Hall, larceny, one year. These sentences to begin to the term of November, and are to run concurrently. The sentences imposed surprise many persons, as usually, and hardly with them.

Officer Stanton Steele of the Chicago police force has received a letter from the Baltimore Museum of Curiosities, dated, which has undertaken to exhibit the wonderful church in Saint Vincent's that feet, in which to suspend his heels to the admiration gaping people for the exciting and gruesome by-to-be feat. Father Dragowitz, who, about fifty-seven is the number age to which only, originated the idea of the feat, is a man of appreciation of the grotesque and artful from nature, is to suspend by the heels, the heels-wisdom of great Greek contributed to the pastors of the Lith-nese to the various times and territories of the times.

A QUESTION OF HEALTH.

"Royal" the Only Absolutely Pure and Wholesome Baking Powder Made.

Bread, biscuit, and cake enter so largely into our daily food that their debasement by the introduction of any injurious or deteriorating substance is a matter of serious import. By such debasement our most prominent articles of food are robbed of a portion of their nutritious qualities, thereby depriving our bodies of the full sustenance necessary to produce that perfect health and vigor required to protect us from disease.

As bread, biscuit, cake, etc., are generally made with the aid of baking powders, the large adulteration of these leavening agents with lime and alum, as now practiced, becomes a matter of grave concern to the public.

It is a fact now undisputed that all baking powders made in this country, with the single exception of the "Royal," contain one or the other of these adulterations—lime or alum. The chemists have found one of these baking powders to be 11.65 per cent lime, and another composed largely of alum. No one would wish to eat a baking powder that was one-eighth dirt; how much more objectionable the article when that eighth is lime or alum, the one a most powerful caustic, the other a subtle poison. But the seriousness of the matter is augmented by the dishonest advertising of such baking powders (by the aid of purchased and forged certificates) as pure and wholesome, whereby the consumer is criminally deceived.

The gravity of the danger to the consumer from the use of these impure and unwholesome baking powders is but faintly appreciated. The comparatively small amount of injurious substance they impart to the system at one time may be unnoticeable. They are therefore continued by the consumer in ignorance of the serious results certain to follow from the accumulated effects. This slow, insidious poisoning, because unapparent, is more dangerous than a larger dose at once. The importance of this matter in its bearing upon the life and health of the public is much more fully realized in England, where under stringent laws severe punishments for the manufacture and sale of articles of food adulterated with lime and alum are of frequent occurrence.

The "Royal" has been determined by the Government Chemists and the most prominent food analysts, after numerous exhaustive tests, to be the only baking powder made that is entirely free from lime, alum, and earth, and absolutely pure. It is therefore the only baking powder that will produce perfectly pure bread, biscuit, cake, pastry, etc., and these articles are now pronounced more wholesome when raised by the "Royal" than by any other leavening agent. All physicians will testify to this fact.

It is particularly a question of health, therefore, what baking powder we shall use, and those who appreciate the miseries of dyspepsia and other ailments that follow the use of improper food will not hesitate to select the "Royal."

CHICAGO UNIVERSITY.

Judgment for Foreclosure Said of the Union Mutual Insurance Company.

Day for the Payment as Set Forth in the Judgment of Mr. Leonard Swett.

The Schedules Not Contested—On Safety Restricted—Time Made at the Master-Judge Decided Oct. 6th.

In many respects in the foreclosure suit of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company against the University of Chicago which has been on hand in the courts and before the Master-in-Chancery for the past year and a half, and in which the amount involved was $150,000 on the one side and the property of the University on the other, the decision rendered by Judge Gresham on Saturday last is important. The contest was carried on with great vigor by both sides, and both the Master-in-Chancery and the Judge before whom the case was carried on appeal decided in favor of the University. The contest was in regard to the validity of the bonds and mortgage given by the University to the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company to secure the payment of $150,000 with interest at 7 per cent, which was loaned to the University by the Company. The bonds were issued in 1880, and the Trustees of the University refused to pay the interest on the bonds after the first year, on the ground that the bonds were illegally issued, and that the mortgage was void. The Company brought suit to foreclose the mortgage, and the University filed a cross-bill, setting up the same defense as to the bonds and mortgage. The case was then referred to Master-in-Chancery Leonard Swett, who, after hearing all the evidence, decided in favor of the Company, and found that the bonds and mortgage were valid, and that the University owed the Company the amount of the bonds and interest. The case was then carried to the Circuit Court on appeal, and was argued before Judge Gresham on Saturday last, who sustained the Master-in-Chancery in all his findings, and decided that the bonds and mortgage were valid, and that the University owed the Company the amount of the bonds and interest. The case was then carried to the Circuit Court on appeal, and was argued before Judge Gresham on Saturday last, who sustained the Master-in-Chancery in all his findings, and decided that the bonds and mortgage were valid, and that the University owed the Company the amount of the bonds and interest.

[Illegible] Effect Upon Business Interests.

[Illegible], Ill., Nov. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.] I see it stated on all sides, "What effect will the election of Gov. Cleveland have upon the business of the country?"

That such a change as has taken place will encourage the great industrial interests of the country for good or ill is not doubted, and the natural fear seems to be that [illegible] will be [illegible] to the Democratic party may rush to the [illegible] of speculation, with subject to the [illegible] which [illegible] and the [illegible] of the Democratic party, the [illegible] of the Democratic party, the [illegible] of the Democratic party,

We can sell you a standard Seal Garment much cheaper than you can purchase Eastern-made garments from merchants who make it their business to handle everything, and are no judges of Furs.

The Public

Who have purchased thousands and thousands of so-called Siberian Squirrel-Lined Garments should know well how you were deceived by outside dealers. There are Japan, Cape Island, Cape Shore Seal Garments, and the worthless Pacific Coast Seals sold daily, by merchants who call themselves responsible, for Alaska and Siberian Coast Seals! Come to us if you want Standard Seal Garments, either from stock or have them made to order. Examine the Seals before you purchase. Examine your garment before it is lined, and see that it contains no pieces or different grades of fur. We will give you a written guarantee, if you request it, and sell you a Standard Garment as cheap as you will pay outside dealers for garments.

New York exchange was quoted as follows:

Chicago, 50c premium.
Boston, 10@15c premium.
St. Louis, 40@50c premium.
Cincinnati, 15@25c premium.
New Orleans, $1.00 premium.

Money rates features were about unchanged yesterday in the view that today will be a holiday and the engagements and loans will be closed. This gave a little life to the session's trade, but there was nothing like activity. The scarcity in the Eastern exchanges was kept, and the grain and industry movement. There are considerable of a gain in the outward movement of currency, and the margins were smaller than the corresponding days last year. Foreign bills were firmer at better rates, the quotations being as follows:
